

Linda Hall RN BScN CNN(C)

Movement Disorders Program
London Health Sciences Centre

Linda completed her nursing diploma from Ryerson Polytechnical Institute in 1978. After working in several critical care areas of the hospital as a registered nurse she returned to formal schooling to complete her BScN from the University of Western Ontario and graduated with honors in 2003. She then went on to write the neuroscience certification exam in 2004 as a personal challenge and at the same time began working as the nurse clinician in the Movement Disorders Program (MDP) at London Health Sciences Centre.

Linda has co-authored a journal article about the work she has been involved in since starting in the MDP entitled "Telehealth Management in Movement Disorder: A Retrospective Study" and is published in the Canadian Journal of Neurological Sciences
